

THE AUTHENTIC 24-HOURS-LIFE OF A MARINA.

Having completed your tour of the central harbor of Piraeus you will then head south traversing the peninsula called Peiraiki and arrive to one of the most picturesque neighborhoods in the city.

We are now on the other side of the piece of land connecting the Peninsula Peiraiki with the main land, which is around the old Pacha's port, now known as Passalimani.

In the Ottoman's Ages the Main ship's Float used to use it, from there it comes its name. Here one finds too the harbour of Zea a perfect natural marina, one of the largest in the Mediterranean.

This part of the city is bustling life during the day with impressive yachts and cruisers, or the passengers from the Flying Dolphins, but in the night it is even busier with all the bars, restaurant and taverns full of different people.
